"Now I've got eyesight like everyone else!"

Man celebrates overcoming a lifetime of short-sightedness through revolutionary new surgery: seminar on 1st June explains how you can do the same

Michael Woodhead, 56, has been short-sighted for most of his life but thanks to a new eye implant he's now enjoying life without contact lenses. Michael's eyes have recently been fitted with the brand new LEH Trifocal Lens™, at The London Eye Hospital (www.londoneyehospital.com) on Harley Street.

This new lens is a major step forward for multifocal lenses, which have been in use in their current form for more than a decade. Previous lenses have, however, had to find a compromise between poor intermediate vision and glare or halos often experienced at nights, especially when driving. The new lenses give crystal clear near, middle AND far vision and virtually no glare or halos, making them the most effective and most pleasant option for patients.

Anyone interested in finding out more about the LEH Trifocal Lens™ and other options for restoring sight can meet the team from the London Eye Hospital at a seminar being held at the Hilton Cobham, Seven Hills Road South in Cobham on Saturday 1st June between 11am and 2pm.

Michael, who is Managing Director of a sustainable energy company, says he had been aware of his sight getting worse and wanted to do something about it: "I've been short-sighted for a long time. I've been wearing contact lenses since I was 19 and was starting to have to wear glasses over the top of my contacts for driving as well as having some problems with reading. My eyes were also getting very dry and my contacts were getting uncomfortable, especially if I was out cycling. It was purely age related, I'm afraid!

"I was determined to do something about it, however, and booked a consultation with Mr Qureshi at the London Eye Hospital. He recommended having the Femto laser treatment and Trifocal lenses fitted. I researched it all online and just as he'd said, it appeared to be more accurate and carry less risk than other available treatments. I watched a video online of a similar procedure using a scalpel rather than a laser and you really could see it ripping through the eye tissue, whereas the laser makes far smaller and cleaner cuts.

"I had the first eye treated four weeks ago then the second eye done a fortnight ago. It was pretty much painless and it's all gone very smoothly and day by day my sight has got better and better. Very quickly after the surgery they were able to tell me that I had got almost 20:20 vision. I can't exercise or ride my bike for a few weeks while my eyes recover fully, but that won't take long. I had contact lenses for so long so it's nice to no longer need them. I'm finally without the short-sightedness I've been living with for years and years and have eyesight like everyone else.

"I've certainly got no regrets about having done. It's still early days and it does take your brain a little while to come to terms with the fact something has changed in your eyes – for instance, I'm learning I have to hold things at a different distance to read them!"

The LEH Trifocal lens™ is suitable for anyone in their late 30s or older who has long or short sight, even if they have an astigmatism. The lens is also suitable for anyone with cataracts, so millions of people who currently wear glasses or contact lenses could benefit – especially if previously they have avoided surgery due to the prevalence of glare problems after having traditional multifocal lenses fitted.

Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon and Medical Director of The London Eye Hospital Bobby Qureshi says the new LEH Trifocal lenses™ are easily fitted and will change lives:

"Using our Femtosecond cataract laser, the whole operation is performed in a matter of minutes, with 30 seconds of laser and 3 minutes to implant the trifocal lenses, through an incision the size of a full stop, less than 1.5mm. The results will last for a lifetime, however, giving freedom from reading glasses and distance glasses without the glare problems associated with other implants."

For more details about LEH Trifocal lenses™ and the London Eye Hospital see www.londoneyehospital.com or join Bobby Qureshi and his team at Hilton Cobham on Saturday 1st June.

ARSON DEATH

Woman dies setting fire to partner's flat

A woman died after dousing her partner's flat with petrol and setting fire to it after an argument.

Edith Fuller, 45, may have set fire to herself by accident after the petrol fumes ignited, Woking Coroner's Court heard on Friday, May 17.

The day before she died, Miss Fuller, who lived in Wellington Court, Glenbuck Road, Surbiton, locked her boyfriend Mark Essex in her spare bedroom.

But he escaped after police were called and he went back to his Guildford flat on March 19, 2012, where

by HANA HAUSMEISTER

hana.hausmeister@london.newsquest.co.uk

Miss Fuller was waiting for him.

They then had lunch at Guildford College, where Mr Essex, 58, worked as a cleaner.

She told him: "I have got a surprise for you tonight. I am going to tuck you into bed and give you a cuddle."

She left him at work, claiming she was going to watch the television show Neighbours at his flat. When he returned he noticed a smell of a flammable substance.

He said: "I asked what on earth she had been playing at and she said 'I have been covering the flat with air freshener'. She was up to something. She had a bit of a grin on her face and a menacing look."

After he tried to escape from the flat, she pulled him back inside and then set fire to petrol in the kitchen, he told the coroner.

He said: "The flames started immediately. She started screaming and I ran out of the flat. I was burned by the flames. I suffered 80 per cent burns in the end."

Miss Fuller was found lying face-down in the bath where it is believed she ran to extinguish the flames from her body.

She died of smoke inhalation and suffered severe burns.

Miss Fuller suffered from a personality disorder and was taking antidepressants, according to her GP.

Coroner Martin Fleming said: "She intentionally started the fire although it is unclear whether there was an intention to take her own life."

Police appeal after bus sexual assaults

by ROSS LOGAN
ross.logan@london.newsquest.co.uk

Police have appealed for information after three sexual assaults on buses.

Metropolitan Police have released CCTV images of a man they would like to speak to in connection with the assaults, and are appealing to the public for information.

The first offence happened on September 6, on board the K3 bus in Eden Street, Kingston.

The second offence also occurred on the K3 in Kingston, in Wheatfield Way on Wednesday, February 20.

The third incident happened in Twickenham, on the R70 in King Street.

Detective Constable Simone Ludlowe said: "We do not tolerate unwanted sexual behaviour on the transport network and we take all sexual offences very seriously. I would like to remind everyone, but women in particular, to always report incidents of this nature to the police."

The suspect is described as a white man with short scruffy dark hair.

Call D Con Ludlowe on 07920 191228 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111 if you have any information.

Travel boss is banned

The director of a collapsed New Malden tour operating company that left thousands of holidaymakers stranded has been disqualified for 15 years after an investigation.

Abdulkadir Aydin, 47, sole director of Goldtrail Travel, based in Kingspark Business Centre, was banned from being a company director for the maximum possible term.

Last week a High Court ruling found he had grossly mismanaged the company.

Goldtrail, which specialised in trips to Greece and Turkey, went into administration in July 2010 with debts of about £2.3m, 23,000 holidaymakers stranded abroad and at least 110,000 people who had to rearrange their holidays.

About 20 staff members also lost their jobs.

Mr Aydin also allowed Goldtrail to make unexplained payments of more than £6m to two Turkish companies controlled by his family.

Woman assaulted boy in care home

A woman has admitted beating an eight-year-old boy at a care-home for children with learning disabilities in Surbiton.

Monsurat Balogun, 46, from Walworth, pleaded guilty on May 14 to assaulting the boy at the Lighthouse Children's Home in Berrylands Road.

Balogun was an agency worker who had been hired on a temporary basis by the care home.

The incident happened on August 13, 2012.

Rayman Jeetoo, Lighthouse Children's Home director, said: "It was very regrettable and most unfortunate that there was an isolated incident involving an agency member of staff who was working temporarily at the home that warranted safeguarding action being taken.

"Immediate and appropriate action was taken by the management at the home.

"We expect and demand the highest standards of care for the children at the home from all staff and will always take immediate robust action against anyone who does not meet these standards."

The Lighthouse children's home provides long and short-term care for children with autistic spectrum disorders and learning disabilities.

It can take on up to six children aged eight to 18.

The home received a "good" overall report after its latest Ofsted visit in March last year.

Officers rated the home's safeguarding service as satisfactory.

Mrs Balogun will appear at Lavender Hill Magistrates' Court on June 4 for sentencing.

Forge denial

A 41-year-old man has denied knowingly using a fake £20 note at Chessington World of Adventures in February.

Karl Winterburn, from Horley, will return to Lavender Hill Magistrates' Court on June 25, for his case to be committed to crown court for trial.

Dentures? Missing Teeth? ...Have you heard about fixed teeth in a day?

Imagine no movement of dentures, no palate, and no obstructions! NO PROBLEM.....

Our guess is, if you currently wear dentures or have missing teeth you would do anything to have fixed teeth again – well you can! The Denture and Implant Clinic offers the latest revolutionary techniques which are fast becoming the new way to solve missing teeth problems!

Confidence to eat and enjoy your food!

The Denture and Implant Clinic's founder Dr Justin Stewart was the first bio-functional prosthetic system qualified dental surgeon in the UK. He continued his studies determined to find better solutions for people with missing teeth and although Dr Stewart no longer practices, the clinic offers this amazing solution 'Fixed teeth' through his highly trained team.

Amazing Solutions for missing teeth

This amazing solution has been developed to allow implants to be placed in the upper or lower arch in the mouth (or both) and a bridge is fixed onto the implants which is secure leaving you confident in the knowledge that your teeth will not move. 'Fixed Teeth' is a fantastic solution for patients who are unhappy with their dentures or have been told they need dentures and want to avoid them. Our patients comment on how confident they feel after the procedure, knowing their teeth will not fall down or worse, fall out, during a conversation. The treatment means that patients can taste their food again…they have their palate back! The clinic receives numerous patients who were putting off having dentures and living in misery with painful teeth but are now pain free and happy, in some cases happier with their new smile than they were with their original smile!

Visit www.thedentureandimplantclinic.co.uk and read the success stories, you will be amazed!

Teeth being secured in the mouth

The clinic have a highly experienced and dedicated team, and each team member plays a part in ensuring the care the patient receives is an enjoyable experience. The Denture and Implant Clinic has its own dental laboratory on site. Patients will also be encouraged to bring in photographs of when they had their own teeth, and those photos are used during the reconstruction of the final bridge to perfectly replicate the smile that the patient once had.

Smile Advisor, Jennie Baker at The Denture and Implant Clinics says, "This really is an amazing new technique that will change people's lives. Living with 'False teeth' can be upsetting and difficult. Over the years we have encountered every conceivable problem patients endure, but this new fixed procedure allows patients to forget they ever wore dentures, leaving them free to enjoy their lives and have the confidence that we offer - a 100% guarantee with all our treatment!"

Curiosities come out at sale

Antiques, bric-a-brac and curiosities were all on offer at a Kingston street's annual car boot sale.

The Mill Street sale on Saturday saw residents bring out their unwanted goods and put them on sale from their front gardens.

Items that were not bought were picked up by Kingston-based disability charity Enhancable, to be sold on in the future.

Tessa Kind, of Mill Street Residents' Association, said: "It was a lovely day where everybody came out and had fun."

College told to improve or face funding withdrawal

A historic women's college in Surbiton could have most of its funding cut unless it drastically improves its education standards.

Hillcroft College has been told by the Skills Funding Agency (SFA) – which contributes more than £1.5m a year to the South Bank institution – that progress on student achievements has been "insufficient", and has now sent in consultants to turn the college around.

But if the college continues to flounder, the agency has the option to withdraw its funding, suspend recruitment or terminate its contract.

The move comes more than a year on from the SFA issuing the college with a notice to improve, and five months after an Ofsted inspection deemed Hillcroft to be inadequate.

by ROSS LOGAN
ross.logan@london.newsquest.co.uk

An SFA spokeswoman said: "Hillcroft is now required to present the agency with recommendations based on a review of the most effective way to deliver education and training."

Hillcroft was opened in the 1920s by the YWCA, as attitudes towards women changed following the First World War.

It is the UK's only residential college exclusively for women, offering a range of courses for students of all abilities, including those with dyslexia or dyspraxia.

But the college has been beset by problems in recent years, including in 2010 when it spent £443,000 to cover the cost of a fundraising concert that sold just 3,000 of its 14,000 tickets.

Kingston and Surbiton MP Edward Davey, a patron of Hillcroft, said he would speak to principal Michael Wheeler to offer assistance.

Mr Davey said: "It is important the SFA recognises the unique nature of Hillcroft and the opportunity it provides. As a national residential college for women, it won't always fit with the pro forma of bureaucrats.

"While it is important the college provides quality teaching, it is also important the FSA recognises the distinct nature of Hillcroft."

Liberal Democrat Councillor Shiraz Mirza, another patron, said: "I have every faith in the college.

"It is nearly 100 years old and they have had challenges before, and I am confident they will overcome this."

A Hillcroft spokeswoman said: "The SFA, which provides the majority of our funding, has commissioned external consultants to work with us to identify how we can make improvements.

"This is to ensure the agency's funding is being provided to courses which are of continuing good quality.

"The governors, the principal and staff will work with the consultants in order to continue to support students in successful studies."

Former bingo hall owner is bankrupt

The former owner of Kingston's Gala Bingo hall, who was fined £45,000 for destroying the floor of the historic building, has been declared bankrupt.

An order against Franco Lumba was filed at the High Court last month – days after the 45-year-old pleaded guilty to executing work or alterations to a Grade II listed building.

He had been ordered to pay almost £75,000 in fines and court costs – and may now have to sell off some of his luxury assets in order to pay back his creditors.

A bankruptcy petition was launched by Abbeyview Services, a Hertfordshire-based carpentry firm that carried out work at a property owned by Mr Lumba in Leicester Square.

A worker at the company said they believed Mr Lumba intended to turn the venue into a nightclub – but the project was never completed and the company was never paid.

At Croydon Crown Court in April, where he pleaded guilty to altering the bingo hall, it was heard that Mr Lumba, of St Margaret's Road, Twickenham, has £5.6m tied up in properties across London as well as a number of bank accounts, a company in Spain and a motor yacht.

Flower contest blooms large

Kingston in Bloom is back a year after the Kingston Guardian and supporters kept it alive following council cuts; and Tolworth resident Sarah Partridge-Finucane, who runs a publishing firm, will run the competition.

She said: "I have been involved in Kingston in Bloom for nearly 10 years. It's an excellent way of bringing together neighbours. I just always thought it was such a lovely event and there is a lot of goodwill towards it."

The competition has six categories: best front garden, best blooming pub, best community space or street, best public building and business premises, best education establishment display and best hanging baskets and containers.

Keeping with a tradition that began last year, one of the awards will still be named the Mary Rollinson award in honour of Graham Rollinson's wife.

Mr Rollinson said: "I am glad the award is going to be kept. My late wife was known by so many people in Tolworth. I have already started on my garden."

Arts festival aims to raise roof with talent

by HANA HAUSMEISTER
hana.hausmeister@london.newsquest.co.uk

This year's International Youth Arts Festival (IYAF) will feature acts including extreme sports, a street carnival and two guys trapped in a cardboard box.

Kingston will be showcasing the talents of artists, theatre companies and musicians from all over the world in the three-week festival that last year drew a crowd of thousands.

Festival organisers will be celebrating with a launch party on May 28 at the Rose Theatre culture cafe. Residents are invited to talk to the stars behind the scenes and get their first glimpse of the full programme.

Jeremy Sachs, festival director, said: "It looks like it is going to be tremendous.

"There is no one act the same as the other. We have got folksy bands, MCs, theatre companies and a circus. I imagine that will be the start of the buzz and once that has started we will just build from there."

Trapped in a box: One of the acts at this year's festival

The opening variety concert, Raise the Roof, is at the Rose Theatre on July 12.

Mr Sachs said: "It will be one show where you can see a lot of different shows taking place.

"The National Youth Music Theatre will be doing a 10-minute piece.

"The Roundhouse in Camden is doing a five-minute piece.

"It will be a nice, big kind of launch in the show as part of the festival."

A long line-up of productions are stealing the bill at the Rose, with everything from classic fairy tales, infant music shows, and even a comedy sketch featuring two men and a box.

There will be live music, street theatre and dance every weekend at two outdoor stages in the Market Place and Eagle Brewery Wharf.

And the IYAF carnival will be parading through town on July 14 from 3pm.

The festival takes place from July 6 to 28.

Tickets have already gone on sale, with an advance price for the festival pass of £70 for adults and £35 for concessions.

For information visit iyafestival.org.uk. For a full list of the IYAF shows visit rosetheatrekingston.org.

Weird and wonderful

"Weird and wonderful" meals will be served to encourage Kingston children to be braver with their foods.

Wagamamas' weird and wonderful food tasting will be the main attraction at the Kingston Children's Food Festival.

The event will take place on August 10 and 11 in the town centre.

Woman 'took her own life'

A woman who was found hanged from a tree branch in Kingston took her own life, a coroner has ruled.

Juthi Pun Magar, 72, was dressed in a sari with a piece of yellow cloth attached to her neck in Latchmere recreation ground on May 22, last year when park attendants discovered her.

A pair of spectacles and an open pack of cigarettes were also found on a bench nearby.

The widow, of Nepalese origin, had lived with her son and his family in the Keep, Kingston, and had left home at about 6pm the day before to go for a walk but had not returned.

Postmortem examinations revealed there had been no evidence of assault or restraint and paramedics who arrived just after 5.30am pronounced her dead at the scene.

In a witness statement Police Constable Ian Gloster described finding Mrs Pun Magar about 8ft from the ground.

He said: "Her face had turned purple near her lips, her eyes were shut and there were no signs of life. She had dark greying hair and was wearing a gold piercing in her nose, and a gold ring."

The contents of a bag nearby also included about £16.

Her family were not at the inquest, which took place at West London Coroner's Court on April 25.

Protest he could get his teeth into

by JON SHARMAN
jon.sharman@london.newsquest.co.uk

A former Raven's Ait squatter has been fined after he admitted biting a police officer while protesting outside Kingston's Guildhall in March.

Activist Richard Maggs, 32, currently staying in Liverpool, also admitted two counts of common assault on a security guard and another PC at Wimbledon Magistrates' Court on Tuesday, May 14.

He changed his plea to guilty on the day of his trial.

Maggs was protesting against the eviction of Waters Square residents by Kingston Council when he was challenged by security guard David Mitchell late at night on Tuesday, March 5.

Wearing a high-visibility jacket with "Raven's Ait Eco Warriors" written on the back, he pushed Mr Mitchell twice in the chest, the court heard.

Crown prosecutor Luisa Stuart said: "Maggs was flailing his arms around, shouting and swearing.

"He became more and more irate and aggressive and had to be detained on the ground."

Maggs caught PC Sam Holden in the back of the head with a trailing blow and was carried to a police van in leg restraints.

He also bit PC Steve Potterill on the leg, causing redness, but not breaking the skin.

After being taken to the police station Maggs refused to be interviewed, claimed he was carrying a knife and drugs, and had to be strip-searched, Miss Stuart said.

He demanded to be given his iPad to contact his solicitor, but changed his mind, she said.

His solicitor, Sundeep Pankhania, told magistrates Maggs planned his demonstration late at night to avoid disrupting passersby and businesses.

He said: "He has seen the CCTV and accepted his guilt. Had he had it when the Crown was supposed to have served it, there would have been a guilty plea before today.

"It was something Mr Maggs felt very strongly about.

"He has had a great deal on his mind. He is a political activist and most of the time he squats.

"He is going to sign on and is in the process of looking for work."

Maggs was fined £250, and was ordered to pay £50 compensation to PC Potterill, a £50 victim surcharge, and £200 court costs.

Gary Potter and the preposterous 'loan'

Weasley: Gary Potter outside court Deadlinepix KT76201

A drug addict tricked a passerby into giving him cash by claiming his daughter and wife had been in an accident and taken to hospital.

Gary David Potter, 33, shouted "You will be rewarded in heaven" as he ran off with the £40 his victim handed over.

He convinced the man to give him money in Cromwell Road, Kingston, on January 15, by handing out his mobile phone number so that they could arrange repayment for the next day.

Potter suggested the victim call his number in front of him so that his old fashioned Nokia phone could be seen ringing, to assure the victim they would be in touch the following day.

But the man was unable to get in touch after he had handed out the two £20 notes.

Potter, who previously lived in Kingston but now of Epsom Road, Sutton, appeared wearing a hoodie and beige trousers at Lavender Hill Magistrates' Court on Tuesday, May 14.

His girlfriend sat in the public gallery as he pleaded guilty to charges of fraud by false representation and breach of an antisocial behaviour order.

During sentencing, the courtroom heard how he came running toward the victim and appeared desperate, speaking incoherently as he asked for money to get to Croydon Hospital.

by NAZIA DEWJI
ndewji@london.newsquest.co.uk

But as he ran off with the cash he called out: "You are a lifesaver. You will be rewarded in heaven."

Defence counsel Sara Mitchell said: "Mr Potter assures me that he is remorseful of his actions and is very keen to pay the victim the £40.

"Mr Potter has had a longstanding addiction to class A drugs, but he does show great motivation at this stage to address his misuse of drugs.

"He is still using but his using is being reduced all the time."

Potter, who picks up his dose of methadone every Tuesday morning in the borough, suggested he and his girlfriend were preparing to move to Somerset, but he would carry on with any drug rehabilitation process.

He was given a community order with 12 months supervision and put on a six-month drug rehabilitation requirement.

He was also ordered to pay the victim £40 back within two weeks and a further £60 towards court costs in £10 weekly instalments.

Mirza will assist police and crime commissioner

by LAURA PROTO
laura.proto@london.newsquest.co.uk

Kingston's first Asian mayor has been appointed assistant commissioner to Surrey's police and crime commissioner, Kevin Hurley.

Chessington South Councillor Shiraz Mirza, was chosen for the position of assistant commissioner for equality and diversity, while Jane Anderson, a former Ministry of Justice worker, was selected for the role of assistant commissioner for victims.

Coun Mirza, who has twice been mayor of Kingston, will work to build links with minority and hard-to-reach groups across Surrey, making sure they receive a good service from Surrey Police and the criminal justice system.

No stranger to community engagement work, Coun Mirza has forged ties with Shooting Star Chase and Royad, is a governor of Kingston College and a patron of Hillcroft College.

Coun Mirza said: "I am honoured to have been offered the position of assistant crime and police commissioner.

"During my many years of public service I have been fortunate to work alongside and support a wide and inclusive range of individuals and groups.

"Having been fortunate to have held many community-based and charitable positions I am keen to continue to engage with all sections of our communities, especially those who are keen to work together to increase respect and the values of equality and human rights."

Ms Anderson's role will ensure victims and witnesses are at the heart of Surrey's criminal justice system.

After a spell with the British Council, and 12 years with the BBC, Ms Anderson spent most of her career as a senior civil servant at the Home Office, Ministry of Justice and other Whitehall departments advising ministers and developing workable policies to implement Government objectives.

Mr Hurley said: "The victim should be at the heart of the criminal justice system.

"All too often they are not and I am determined to do something about it.

"Jane is an important addition to our team – she is an experienced, insightful and tenacious character who will be a powerful advocate for victims of crime in Surrey.

"I know she will drive their cause forward with energy and determination."

The assistant commissioners will assist Mr Hurley with his work and will be expected to work 1.5 days a week for a salary of £12,500.

Partners: Shiraz Mirza will be assisting Surrey's police and crime commissioner Kevin Hurley Deadlinepix KT67052

Mental health teams face 'extra pressure' after move

by JON SHARMAN
jon.sharman@london.newsquest.co.uk

Acacia unit opening: Consultant psychiatrist Dr Edward Burns, MP Edward Davey, mayor Penny Shelton and mental health trust chairman Peter Molyneux Deadlinepix KT76135

Mental health teams at Tolworth Hospital are under extra pressure after they were moved from their community offices, a senior practitioner has said.

In a bid to provide a more joined-up service, South-West London and St George's mental health trust (SWLSTG) has moved crisis, early intervention, community, and home care workers to the refurbished Acacia unit.

The unit was officially opened by Kingston and Surbiton MP Edward Davey recently.

Senior practitioner Karin Slack has moved from a centre in New Malden.

She said: "It is not in the middle of the community we serve – that puts extra pressure on the team. We are managing that with home visits.

"It takes two buses for people [with no car]. It is quite expensive for people who do not have a bus pass."

But she said overall the change was positive for patients.

She said: "What is enjoyable is to be co-located with other teams. We are no longer in isolation and can pop round to each other's office and have constructive conversations."

An SWLSTG spokeswoman said: "The Acacia unit in Tolworth Hospital is well served by buses and trains.

"The trust regularly delivers services through a number of GP practices, community visits and patients' homes to help mitigate any significant transport difficulties for patients and carers."

SWLSTG said the changes were designed to improve responsiveness and efficiency in its services, but was not sure yet how much it will save.

The refurbishment cost £1.2m, it said.

Adrian Davey, general manager of Kingston's adult services, said: "If we can get more out of our estate it is better to find it through bricks and mortar than doctors and nurses.

"This refurbishment represents a real investment in patient environment and will improve the services we offer to the local community."

Edward Davey said the move was "a real step forward".

He said: "This proves it is possible you can make savings, you can improve the quality of the service, and you can free up resources."

School's IT suite and library hit by flooding

Classes at St Mary's Primary School in Chessington are back to normal following a flood caused by a burst water main.

The pipe burst early on Monday, May 13, causing a ceiling to collapse and water to flood the entire infants' area of the school.

Temporary flooring has been installed, which has to be pulled up at night to allow the building to dry out.

Bursar Louise Mellors said repairs may have to wait until the summer holidays.

She said: "Obviously with water damage it takes a while. It has to seep out.

"In the meantime we are extremely lucky that we have a very good team of helpers."

She said an IT suite and the library were affected by the flooding, which saw 3in of water spread throughout the building.

Parent-governor Rachel Parkes said: "We are all back up and running and the children are happy."

Junior pupils taking their SATs were largely unaffected.

Objects left inside patients

Staff at Kingston Hospital operated on the wrong body part, wrongly-inserted a feeding tube and left objects inside patients twice, during 2011 and 2012.

The four "never events" are patient safety incidents that should never happen if preventative measures are followed correctly.

A hospital spokeswoman said it had the lowest number of "never events" in south-west London.

She said: "All the 'never events' are thoroughly investigated by a panel chaired by a non-executive director and are discussed in full, including agreeing the action plan, during the private part of the trust board meetings.

"Any member of staff involved in a 'never event' has this recorded on their personal record and lessons learned are shared with staff to prevent a similar incident happening again."

The number represents 0.0001 per cent of patients who receive elective or emergency treatment each year, the hospital said.

Patients affected by "never events" are included in investigations, it said.

Dear Dr. Wasey Habib,
May I take this opportunity to thank you for the work you have done for me. I saw an advert for having my lower teeth fixed into my jawbone using implants to stop my denture moving when eating etc.
After talking to you I was left convinced it would benefit me to have the work done. You explained the procedure in great detail and I decided to have the work done. It was not painful.
The job took a few months from start to finish from seeing the advert to the final check.
I would recommend anyone I my position to have this work done as it has changed my life for the better.

Market must have mix of goods

The news three stallholders at Kingston Market were told they were no longer welcome because the items they sell do not fit into the proposed revamp of the area is a disgrace.

The whole point of a market is to provide a mix of things, not just food.

These people have been in the market for a total of 78 years, so there must be a demand for their goods.

Everything that is sold in the market is available in the shops, but many choose to shop there because they offer value for money.

Also, regular shoppers are known to the stallholders and give a much more personal service.

Tarting up the market area will not bring in more people.

The market brings the shoppers in now. We like the quirkiness as it is. It has character.

That is what brings the buyers in, not some sterile area.

So let these three stallholders remain. We want them. The council has shown how out of touch it is with the public.

TERENCE JENKINS
Via email

A cruel decision

The planning application for the refurbishment of Kingston Ancient Market Place is due for scrutiny shortly.

In the accompanying "impact proposals" it clearly states that "the actual number of stalls [is] increasing through the use of back-to-back stalls".

And yet three of the old time stallholders are not having their licences renewed.

This is both illogical and deeply cruel. They have been long term licence-holders and the stalls are their livelihoods.

Kingston First, which control the licences, has so far presented no reasons, and as such, one can only make assumptions.

Can it be that these three stalls are not picturesque enough, do not fit in with the perceived image of glowing fruit and vegetable stalls, run by jolly salt-of-the-earth Cockneys, alongside gastro stalls loaded with balsamic vinegar and extra virgin olive oil from the hillsides of Tuscany?

This decision not to renew the licences should be reversed unless there is some very clear unprejudiced reason.

GEORGE ROME INNES
Committee
Kingston upon Thames Society

Council's 'vision' needs to change

Conventional wisdom is that small businesses are the driving force of this economy, although it would appear the council does not subscribe to this view.

I was saddened to read the council had decided not to renew the leases for three non-food stalls at Kingston market.

Over the years my family has enjoyed many good value purchases from the video and DVD stall. Do we really want to impose food-orientated uniformity?

If these stalls do not fit with the council's vision, perhaps it is the vision that should change. If I were a fruit and vegetable trader I would be seriously worried I might be next in line for further "visioning".

Not all change is for the better. I urge councillors to reconsider their decision to effectively close down three small businesses.

TIM PARKIN
Surbiton

Shoppers need a choice

Food, food, food. Is that all Kingston First can think about?

Do they not think Kingston is overloaded with food outlets?

We need to keep the stalls that give us a choice, are innovative and enterprising.

Watching the decline of the markets over many years is a great shame and why do they think that stallholders livelihoods and income can be just shut down?

JAN THORNTON
Tolworth

Kick out the jams: Town is never without roadworks and gridlock

Yet again the roads in Kingston town centre and the surrounding areas are gridlocked and will stay that way for several weeks if the public notices are to be believed.

I have lived in the area for some 40 years and it seems to me that Kingston is never without some kind of roadworks and accompanying traffic jams. Lately, if anything, the situation seems to be getting worse; indeed I would suggest that Kingston is one of the worst areas in the entire country, including central London, for consistent jams and gridlocking.

The latest major hold-up, by the Bentall Centre, is apparently being carried out for "traffic improvement", but widening the traffic island in the middle of Wood Street is not going to help the flow of traffic and is certainly not worth jamming up the area for a lengthy period.

I would like to make three concluding points: First, the one-way system is not working. The traffic actually flowed far better when cars were able to turn right from Richmond Road into Wood Street.

Second, the roadworks take far too long to complete. It is quite common to see no one working at sites, and when they are on site finishing early in the afternoon. Why not work at night and get the job done far quicker? The increase in labour charges would be offset by the benefits to trade when the traffic is flowing smoothly.

Third, those who plan the traffic systems in this area should be pensioned off as soon as possible because they clearly do not have a clue. I am reminded of that well-known saying: "An infinite number of chimpanzees, if left alone indefinitely with typewriters, would eventually produce the complete works of Shakespeare". They would certainly do a far better job with Kingston's traffic.

Time to change your mattress?

Most people sleep on it and pay the price.

A tired mattress can leave you feeling just as tired too

By Sandra Haynes

Is your mattress over 7 years old, saggy or just not as comfortable as it used to be? Putting off replacing it can lead to disturbed sleep, morning tiredness, stiff neck and back ache. In fact, it's the main reason for lack of sleep for most people – they just don't realize it.

Buying a new mattress might seem like an expense you can manage without but it's one of the most valuable things you can do to improve your health and general well being.

What happens to your old mattress over time?

The main problem is deteriorating support. Over time, the springs inside your mattress lose their firmness so they start to sag under your weight. Eventually they become so weakened they retain your shape creating dips and hollows across the surface of the mattress. It's this unevenness and lack of support that causes the body to toss and turn during the night. The lumpier it gets the more disturbed sleep you're likely to get.

The benefits of a new mattress to you

You'll literally notice the difference overnight! From the moment you lie on it to when you wake up in the morning, a new mattress will transform your whole body and your mood too.

- You'll sleep better for longer
- Fall asleep quicker and easier
- Wake up feeling far more refreshed
- Aches and pains will simply fade away
- Well rested you'll feel happier in yourself
- You'll find you have more energy
- Handle the stresses of the day much more easily

Right now, you'll PAY LESS to regain a good nights sleep with our EXTRA DISCOUNT SPECIAL OFFER!

There's never been a better time to buy a new mattress from Hamseys thanks to our special EXTRA DISCOUNT VOUCHER. Take this luxury Visco Pocket Memory Foam Mattress for example. The very latest in mattress design, it uses a combination of pressure relieving memory foam and the finest pocket springs for the most comfortable and restful night's sleep of your life. Not only that as you can see from the table below, you could SAVE UP TO £200!

GEORGIE FAME

Blues and jazz legend Georgie Fame will thrill the Rose Theatre tomorrow in a one-night-only gig.

Fame, who had a series of No 1 hits in the 1960s, has collaborated with the biggest names in the business, including Van Morrison, Eric Clapton, and Muddy Waters.

His first hit Yeh Yeh, with band the Blue Flames, knocked the Beatles off the No 1 perch in 1964.

A pianist growing up, he got into the swing of things when rock'n'roll began to invade the airwaves in the 1950s.

He is well-known for his prowess on the Hammond organ – featured on multiple Van Morrison albums – as well as his singing.

THE FAME GAME

GraveyardPlot

A murderous black comedy about wealth, greed and assassins comes to the Cornerhouse Theatre in Surbiton next week.

Tiptoe Through the Tombstones tells the story of the Tomb family, who are called to their ancestral home in the Essex marshlands by their crusty old lawyer Mortimer Crayle.

The family believe Crayle has called them to inform them of an inheritance. However, the devious lawyer has designs on the money himself, and plots to kill the Tombs in order to snatch the cash.

Unfortunately for the unwitting Crayle, the Tombs happen to all be professional killers and bumping them off one-by-one is not going to be as easy as he first thought.

Written by Norman Robbins, Tiptoe Through the Tombstones will be performed by the Upstage Theatre Company at the Cornerhouse.

Despite its dark subject matter, the play is family-friendly, and promises to keep audiences guessing whodunit right until the very end.

● Tiptoe Through the Tombstones; Cornerhouse Theatre, 116 Douglas Road, Surbiton; May 30 to June 1, 8pm; £9 (£7 concessions); for more information, call 020 8390 9113 or 07963 951901, email rosemary barett@tiscali.co.uk, or visit thecornerhouse.org.

OUT OF TIME: This is the last chance to catch melodic punk rockers Our Time Down Here in Kingston, on their final tour. The Southampton-based band have been together for seven years but the five members are going their separate ways after a last hurrah. They are set to visit old collaborators Banquet Records for an in-store event before making their way to Old London Road for the gig at the Fighting Cocks. They will be joined at the pub by hardcore groups Giants and Grader for a raucous night, but solo acoustic performer Thomas George, also known as the Lion and The Wolf, kicks things off.

● Our Time Down Here; Banquet Records, Eden Street, Kingston; June 1, 6pm; visit banquetrecords.com; the Fighting Cocks, Old London Road, Kingston; June 1, 7.30pm; £4; visit the-fighting-cocks.co.uk/gigs.

TRIGGER EFFECT

● Fighting Cocks, 56 Old London Road, Kingston; June 8, doors open 7.30pm; £5; the-fighting-cocks.co.uk, 020 8974 6469

ON THE TRIGGER

Canadian five-piece Trigger Effect will be storming into Kingston next month, for a gig at the Fighting Cocks in Old London Road, writes Ross Logan.

Hitherto unknown on these shores, the Montreal-based group have been touring virtually non-stop since forming in the early 2000s, peddling their brand of thunderous punk rock across the world.

Their appearance in Kingston will be the first date of a week-long UK tour, as the band celebrates the release on Monday of their new album What's Left To Eliminate? – the first Trigger Effect record to be launched in Britain.

Back home, the group have previously released two full length albums, two EPs and played more than 600 live gigs.

Drawing influence from other punk giants such as Black Flag, Zeke, and Refused, Trigger Effect are singer Nick Babeu, guitarists Pat Bennett and Jordan Brown, bassist Sergio De Silva and drummer Mike Niro.

Support comes in the form of fellow hardcore punk outfits Smoking Hearts, Blasted and Concave.

Bank holiday botches could cost thousands

Check home insurance covers DIY disasters

Householders embarking on a home improvement project this May bank holiday are being urged to check their insurance cover to avoid stumping up thousands of pounds to fix DIY disasters.

Halifax Home Insurance recommends homeowners check their home insurance documents beforehand to ensure they know what's covered, and also warns those who tackle major work they are not qualified for risk invalidating their home insurance policy.

Halifax Home Insurance advises householders to call a professional for jobs involving gas, electrical or plumbing work

Last year Halifax Home Insurance recorded almost 40,000* accidental damage claims, many of which were DIY-related such as spilling paint or drilling through pipes.

In total the insurer paid out almost £13m for accidental damage, with each claim costing an average of £323.00 to fix. May alone saw over £1m in accidental damage claims, partly due to botched bank holiday home improvement jobs.

Martyn Foulds, senior claims manager, Halifax Home Insurance, said: "May bank holiday is a key time for homeowners to dig out their tools and indulge in a spot of DIY.

We'd urge those about to start a job to be aware of what their home insurance policy covers, consider accidental damage cover, and avoid taking on too much."

Research conducted by OnePoll last year showed that while more than three quarters (77 per cent) of householders would be confident enough to tackle painting, and half would attempt to put up shelves, more than 10 per cent (11 per cent) would fit a new kitchen, and one in 20 (five per cent) would be willing to fit a new gas fire themselves, something Halifax does not recommend.

Martyn added: "For more specialist jobs involving gas, electrical, plumbing or structural work, it's essential to call in the experts, otherwise homeowners risk invalidating their home insurance policy if things go awry."

Halifax Home Insurance offers the following tips to help those planning to DIY this bank holiday weekend:

■ Preparation is key – make sure you have all the correct tools and equipment for the job before you start to avoid coming unstuck later on

■ Plan a budget beforehand and stick to it

■ Call a professional for jobs involving gas, electrical or plumbing work. When choosing a tradesman, ask for references and certificates to demonstrate that they are competent

■ Contact your insurer if any work is being carried out which may alter the structure or layout of the home such as an extension or garage, etc

Accidental damage to some parts of the home such as sinks, baths and ceramic hobs is included in many home insurance policies, but it is worth considering purchasing additional accidental damage cover to protect against common DIY mishaps such as spilling paint, drilling through pipes, or putting feet through ceilings.

Public Notices

NOTICE
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984, SECTION 14(1)
THE SURREY COUNTY COUNCIL
PUBLIC FOOTPATH 17 (WALTON & WEYBRIDGE)
TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC ORDER 2013

On 31 May 2013 Surrey County Council will make the above mentioned temporary order, the effect of which is to prohibit all traffic on foot or by any other means from entering or proceeding along the length of Footpath 17 (Walton & Weybridge) which extends in a southerly direction from its junction with Trenchard Close, Hersham (Grid ref: TQ 1120 6444) for a distance of 69 metres to its junction with an alleyway that runs beside No. 29 Snellings Road, Hersham.

The Order is necessary in order to facilitate works that will be taking place on or near the footpath to install services to serve the adjacent dwellings. The closure will be in operation for a period of four months from 3 June 2013, or until completion of the works, if earlier. That period can be extended by the Secretary of State for Transport if required.

The prohibition described above will only be operative while the County Council, or an authorised person acting on its behalf, displays signs prohibiting the said movements. No access to properties will be affected by the temporary closure.

The alternative route for traffic from the northern end of closure will be:

Proceed in a easterly direction along Trenchard Close for 45 metres to its junction with a footpath that runs alongside No. 39 Trenchard Close. Turn right onto said footpath and proceed in a southerly direction for 45 metres to its junction with a footpath that runs alongside No. 33a Trenchard Close. Turn right onto footpath. Proceed in a easterly direction to the southern end of closure.

The alternative route for traffic from the southern end of the closure will be the reverse of the route described above.

'The Surrey County Council Public Footpath 17 (Walton & Weybridge) Temporary Prohibition of Traffic Order 2013' will be made by the County Council under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Dated: 23 May 2013

ESHER COLLEGE

Situated in NE Surrey, Esher College is an oversubscribed, open access sixth form college. The College is rated 'outstanding' by Ofsted and has an impressive track record in delivering high levels of student achievement.

We have the following vacancies to start from September 2013:

COLLEGE GOVERNORS

We currently have two vacancies for external governors, who have an important role in overseeing the strategic vision and effective leadership of the College. This is an exciting opportunity to contribute to the future direction of this successful sixth form college. If you are interested in and enthusiastic about education, we would be delighted to hear from you, particularly if you are able to bring relevant skills from employment and/or community experience.

Application packs can be obtained from the College website at www.esher.ac.uk/vacancies If you would like an informal discussion about the post, please call the Deputy Clerk to the Corporation, Sharon Kelly, on 020 8398 0291 or email skelly@esher.ac.uk

Closing date: 12 Noon, Monday 10 June 2013.

Esher College is committed to promoting equality and diversity and we welcome applications from all sections of the community.

Conditions of acceptance of advertisements

General

1. The following conditions apply to the placing of an order for insertion of advertisements in Newsquest Media Group ("Newsquest") printed or electronic publications. Each order will form a separate agreement and English law will apply. Any change to these conditions must be agreed by us in writing (which means by exchange of letter, fax or email). An "advertiser" means any person or organisation placing an advertisement on their own account or on behalf of another.

Contents

2. The advertiser confirms that the advertisement complies with all applicable legislation, regulations and codes of practice, including the codes supervised by the Advertising Standards Authority. We may reject or require changes to any advertisement so as to comply with legal or moral obligations placed on us or the advertiser; to avoid infringing the rights of a third party or any relevant code of practice; or to meet our published production and quality specifications.
3. The advertiser further confirms that:
   i) the publication of the advertisement will not breach any contract, infringe the copyright, trademark or other right of any third party and is not libelous of any person;
   ii) all licences and consents from third parties necessary for the publication of the advertisement have been obtained and paid for, including consent from living persons identified in copy or pictures (photographic or otherwise);
   iii) in respect of an investment advertisement, the contents have been approved by, or the advertiser is, and authorised person within the meaning of the Financial Services Act 1986 as amended or the advertisement is otherwise permitted under that Act.

Payment

4. All advertisements must be paid for in full at the time of booking unless credit has been agreed. The price shall be the amount fixed by our published rate card on the date of acceptance of the order plus VAT where applicable. For non-credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of an advertisement that has not been paid for on time. For credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of any future advertisements if payment is not made in accordance with our payment terms. For credit advertisers, interest will be charged on late payments at the rate of 3% above the Bank of England's base lending rate from the date payment is due together with the administration costs of collecting an overdue debt.
5. By placing an order with us, an advertising agency confirms that it contracts as principal with full authority from its client in all matters connected with the order and is responsible for all payments due. We will only accept advertisements from advertising agencies if they are recognised by us.
6. We will try to give notice of increases, but we reserve the right to change our advertising rates at any time. This will not affect contracts, including any fixed term agreement for a series of advertisements.

Box numbers

7. We will use reasonable efforts to forward replies to box numbers within a reasonable time, but we are not responsible for any failure or delay caused by circumstances beyond our reasonable control, or for any losses relating to an advertiser's business or any loss that is not reasonably foreseeable by both parties.

Cancellation

8. We will notify the advertiser of the latest time that orders can be cancelled (the "booking" deadline) and the latest time that advertising copy can be received by us ("the copy deadline"). An advertiser may cancel up until copy deadline and we will make reasonable efforts to re-sell the space, but the advertiser will be liable for the full price if the space is not sold and we will reclaim any unearned volume-based discount. Private advertisers booking by telephone or online may cancel in accordance with relevant law, but no refund shall be available after the copy deadline unless cancellation is due to our negligence. If the copy is not received by the copy deadline, we will not be liable if the advertisement does not appear, but the advertiser will remain liable to make full payment for the price of the advertisement.
9. We will try to satisfy an advertiser's request regarding the positioning of an advertisement, but no guarantee of position can be given unless agreed by us and paid for at the rate then current.

Errors

10. We are not liable for any error, misprint or non-appearance of an advertisement unless caused by our negligence, in which case the advertiser will be entitled to a re-insertion or proportionate refund. The advertiser is solely responsible for checking the advertisement on each insertion and ordering correction where necessary. Except where we have been negligent, we shall not be liable for an error or misprint that, in our reasonable opinion, does not materially detract from the advertisement. We shall not be liable in any case for losses relating to any business or public fund-raising for the advertiser, such as lost customers, revenue or profit.

Copyright

11. Advertisements are accepted on condition that we have the right to publish them online as well as in any booked titles. The copyright in work or material we contribute to or re-work for an advertisement belongs to us. We will dispose of advertiser's copy, artwork, photographs or other materials after six months unless collected.

General

12. We shall not be liable if our publishing activities are restricted or prevented by any law, act or event beyond our reasonable control (including, for example, industrial dispute). In such case, the advertiser shall accept publication when available or otherwise may cancel the order by written notice and pay only for work done and materials used.
13. We will use the advertiser's details for internal administration. Unless the advertiser tells us not to in writing at any time, we may also share details with other Newsquest companies or with carefully selected third parties, who may send information about goods and services.
14. The advertiser will be liable to pay us for all costs, losses, expenses and damages of any kind suffered or incurred by us as a result of legal claims or actions, actual or threatened, arising from the advertiser's breach of these conditions or the publications of the advertisement, unless caused by our own negligent act or failure.
15. We may cancel the order at any time if the advertiser breaches these conditions and the breach is not capable of remedy or it continues for seven days after we have given written notice of it, or if we reasonably believe the advertiser is unable to pay debts or the advertiser goes or threatens to go out of business.

Method of payment

We will be pleased to accept your payment by any of the following methods:

- CHEQUE - Made payable to NEWSQUEST (LONDON) LTD.
- BACS - Electronic Bank Transfer • CASH - Paid to one of our Branch Offices.
- CREDIT/DEBIT CARD - Please phone to pay by Visa/Mastercard/Switch/Delta

The most expensive parking place is... your driveway

65 per cent of motorists drive their car for less than one hour each day

Driveways are becoming the most expensive parking spaces in the country according to new research released by Europcar, the leading provider of car hire services in Europe.

The study of 1,000 motorists reveals that they are spending 10 per cent of their monthly income on motoring and car ownership costs – yet 65 per cent are using them for less than an hour a day. Hence cars are staying on driveways.

"We commissioned this research to find out how people were dealing with their mobility issues in the face of increased motoring costs," explained Ken McCall, managing director of Europcar UK Group.

"What seems clear is that many people can't imagine how they could manage without a car – but try to keep costs down by using their cars less.

"With more than half using their car for less than an hour a day, it seems that driveways are fast becoming the most expensive parking spaces in the country."

The Europcar research reveals that insurance is a big cost factor for motorists, with respondents saying it has risen by an average of £57 per year, and the majority admitting to spending up to £600 each year on this vital cover. With over a third of the motorists surveyed owning two cars per household, that's double the cost when it comes to car tax, motor insurance, servicing and fuel.

Despite the rising costs of car ownership, more than half of those questioned (56 per cent) said public transport couldn't replace their car, admitting they find it too costly (40 per cent), inconvenient (64 per cent) and unreliable (53 per cent).

The annual cost of motoring has been calculated as £6,689* including fuel.

Europcar has responded to these findings explaining that it provides a cost-effective option for two car – or more – families who leave one car on the drive for much of the time.

For around £150, plus fuel, a family could hire a mid-range family car from Saturday to Monday.

So they could hire every other weekend and still make savings on the annual cost of owning their own vehicle.

Plus they won't have the hassle of vehicle maintenance which could be a major factor as the average age cars driven by the survey respondents was five years with 18 per cent owning a car over 10 years old.

"According to our research, convenience is king when it comes to mobility," continued Ken McCall.

"And that's another reason why car hire provides a flexible, convenient and affordable alternative to second car ownership."

Brook maintains dominant streak

Stragglers Graham Brook, pictured, continued his dominance of the Crane parkrun, winning for the seventh time in nine attempts on Saturday in 18 minutes, 23 seconds.

Club-mate Ben Osborn took top spot in the Newent race in 18:17.

The Kingston parkrun was won by Keith Macintosh of Wimbledon Windmilers in 17:20. Stragglers' James Ruskin was just eight seconds behind in second place.

Wiebke Kortum of Ranelagh Harriers took the women's race in 21:29.

Thomas is set to take Lancaster at his word

by TIM ASHTON
tim.ashton@london.newsquest.co.uk

Time to give: Kingston's Henry Thomas, flanked by England team-mates Tom Johnson and Ben Morgan, spends time out ahead of this weekend's clash with the Barbarians

After a chat with England head coach Stuart Lancaster, Kingston-born Henry Thomas knows he must take any chance that comes his way.

Thomas is one of 11 uncapped players named in Lancaster's 32-man squad to face Barbarians this weekend, before the tour to Argentina at the beginning of June.

The Sales Shark prop has endured a tough season in the Aviva Premiership, having to come from 14 points adrift at the bottom to avoid relegation to the Championship.

It was also his first season without injury, having had four operations to correct knee and ankle problems the season before.

So after being called up as cover for England's Six Nations squad in May, this call up to the full squad is another step in the right direction.

Thomas said: "Having been with the squad in the Six Nations, I know a lot of the players so there is no trouble settling into the set up, but I think my chance has come because Dan Cole is away with the Lions.

"I spoke to Stuart [Lancaster] and he said if I get time on the pitch I have to make the most of it. I have to make sure I do the bread and butter things properly."

Thomas has been preparing to wear the white of England as part of the NatWest RugbyForce team decorating Chobham RFC clubhouse, and training the youngsters – something slightly easier than facing the Argentinian scrum.

Thomas said: "Anyone who underestimates Argentina does not know much about rugby.

"They are a very strong side and we know they will give us a real test.

"This is going to be a tough tour, but I am really looking forward to it."

While the Chobham kids were looking up to Thomas, he revealed his heroes to be the Bath 1998 Heineken Cup winning side.

"I was playing with the Bath U6s mini-rugby side and so the likes of John Mallett were the big names at the time."

NatWest RugbyForce is designed to help clubs like Chobham become stronger businesses by improving and renovating their facilities with the support of volunteers and the community. To find out more about the NatWest RugbyForce weekend on June 15 and 16 visit rfu.com/natwestrugbyforce

Ks hero Huckle walks on

Simon Huckle's exit from Kingstonian may have left manager Alan Dowson feeling sad, but he knows the time is right for a separation, writes Graham Moody.

Midfielder Huckle and Dowson have been a long-standing double act that stretches back to their days at Walton & Hersham, with Huckle switching to Kingsmeadow when Dowson left the Swans to take over at Ks.

That was 2007, and Huckle has been at the club ever since, making more than 200 appearances.

But this week the relationship finally came to an end with 30-year-old Huckle leaving the club for a fresh challenge, and Dowson wishing him nothing but the best.

"Simon and I have been together for years but we both felt it was the right time," he said.

"He has been a great servant to me and to Kingstonian and I hope he gets a great move.

"Lots of people will be surprised, but we both feel we have been together that long that he wanted to have a fresh challenge, which I understand.

"He is a great lad and everyone at the club does nothing but praise him.

"It is sad for me though as he has been a great servant for me. There is no negativity between the two of us."

Farewell: Simon Huckle is ending his six-year partnership with Alan Dowson

Wanderers' early struggle for form continues

Defeat: Wanderers' James Wackett keeps wicket as Banstead's Dan Newton knocks his way to a half-century

Malden Wanderers are still looking for their first win of the Surrey Championship Premier Division after a two wicket reverse at home to Banstead.

Wanderers made a good start after being put into bat with openers John Hess (35) and William Sabey (nine) putting on 50 for the first wicket.

However, Wanderers collapsed from 50-1 to 76-5, before being eventually skittled for 127 in 28 overs.

In response, Banstead reached their target in 34.3 overs, although Wanderers' Tom Bartram (3-32) and Giles Puckle (3-16) kept the visitors on their toes.

Wanderers host unbeaten Sunbury this weekend.

In Division Two, Worcester Park went down by three wickets in a close encounter at Horsley & Send.

After being put into bat, Sandeep Ganguly was the star of Park's 203-9, hitting an unbeaten 64 off 88 deliveries.

Gary Marshall and Joe Hill took two wickets each but could not stop Horsley reaching 206 with just two deliveries remaining.

Park were in T20 action at Spencer on Wednesday night, and they go to Chessington on Saturday.

Park skipper Rob Waite said: "The game got away from us but we don't quite have the bowlers and we struggled with our fifth bowler.

"They needed 10 off the last over and hit a six to win it, so we pushed them all the way."

He added: "From these first two games of the season though, we can already tell it is going to be a tight division – there are a lot of good teams at this level."

Kingstonian are bottom of Division Four after back-to-back defeats.

Saturday's seven-wicket reverse at Oxted & Limpsfield came despite setting a healthy 199 off 48.2 overs after electing to bat.

However, Oxted proved too strong for the Kingstonian attack, ticking off the runs in 41.4 overs.

Kingstonian travel to Old Hamptonians this weekend.

SPORTS*brief*

ATHLETICS: The Kingston Bridge to Bridge run on Sunday was won by Chris Miles in 28 minutes, 19 seconds. Nick Holt (29:12) and Stephen Zeeley (30:17) completed the top three. The fastest woman over the 8km route was Shona Riach, who finished fourth overall in 31:04. Jade Mountain (38:14) and Izabel Grindal (39:23) took second and third respectively.

HOCKEY: The Surbiton Colts celebrated more success recently winning three national titles. The haul included both U14s championships and the girls' U12s championships, while the boys came third in their U12s competition – only missing out after a late goal denied them a place in the final.

Harriers winners

Two of the leading women from Kingston AC & Polytechnic Harriers proved their worth again with two club records.

On Saturday, at the Southern Athletics League meeting at Twickenham, Mary Iheke ran the 400m in 55.4 seconds to set a personal best and rewrite the club record books – the 22-year-old also won the 200m in 24.8secs.

Kingston finished the Division Two South meeting in second spot behind Brighton and Hove, and currently sit fourth overall after two meetings.

Other winners include: Andy Robinson (3,000m steeplechase, 10 minutes, 42.2 seconds), Gordon Lester (pole vault, 3.80m), Gareth Cook (shotput, 11.88m; hammer, 49.53m), Andy Wheeble (discus, 41.17m), Layla Thompson (800m, 2:20.9), Phoebe Law (1,500m, 4:53.7; 2,000m steeplechase, 7:59.2), Mae Thompson (400m hurdles, 64.9secs), Pippa Wingate (hammer, 49.73m) and Camilla Thrush (javelin, 23.74m).

Elsewhere, Dominique Blaize, leapt to long jump victory on Sunday at the Loughborough International, recording 6.54m for another club record.
